Payment of Compensation by Indonesian Government

*9. Shri P. K. Deo: Will the Prime Minister be pleased to refer to the reply given to Starred Question No. 1034 on the 1st September, 1959 and state:

(a) whether the question of payment of compensation by the Indonesian Government to members of the Indian Embassy for the loss incurred by them due to the raid by the Indonesians on their houses on the 15th March, 1957, has since been settled; and

(b) if not, the reasons therefor?

The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of External Affairs (Shri Sadath Ali Khan); (a) No.

(b) Although the Government of Indonesia have promised to pay compensation, the matter can be finalised only when a mutually accepted assessment of the losses has been arrived at. The matter is still under negotiations through normal diplomatic channels.

Shri P. K. Deo: Last September, in reply to a similar question of mine, the answer given was that the matter was being actively pursued. The matter has been hanging fire since the last three years. May I know if the matter has been taken up seriously at the Ambassador level, or just reminders are being sent in the usual way?

The Prime Minister and Minister of External Affairs (Shri Jawaharlai Nehru): The question, Sir, is about the extent of compensation to be given. The actual damage caused was, I think, estimated at about Rs. 34,000 or Rs. 35,000 of which the amount estimated to have been the loss caused to the persons concerned is about Rs. 10,000. The figures are not large. The Indonesian Government estimated it at a little less than half this figure. So, correspondence has been going on about this relatively small matter.

Shri P. K. Deo: May I know if the Government are considering payment of compensation out of their own funds to the employees who have suffered loss in the discharge of their legitimate duties for no fault of theirs and have been suffering for the last three years?
