Title: Regarding setting up of an AYUSH Medical College and Hospital in Jhargram, West Bengal laid

SHRI KUNAR HEMBRAM (JHARGRAM): My constituency Jhargram in West Bengal, also known as Jangalmahal, has poor and marginal people. In my constituency, there are maximum percentage of people below poverty line and they are Scheduled Tribe, Scheduled Caste and Other Backward Classes. There is no medical college and hospital. The district hospital has very poor quality of medical treatment facility. Poor people don't have any means to get treated outside West Bengal.

So, it is an urgent need to establish an AYUSH Medical College and Hospital in my district Jhargram.
