Laccadive and Minicoy Islands

*2129. Dr. Rama Rao (on behalf of Shri A. K. Gopalan): Will the Minister of Home Affairs be pleased to state :

(a) whether Government are aware that the Laws in force in Laccadive and Minicov islands are diametrically opposed to the Constitution of India; and

(b) if so, the reasons for not modifying them on the lines of the Indian Constitution?

The Deputy Minister of Communications (Shri Raj Bahadur): (a) and (b). The matter is already receiving attention. The islands form part of the Madras State, and the State Government have been asked to examine the existing Regulation from the constitutional point of view.

Dr. Rama Rao: May I know when we can expect Government to come to the decision that the laws of our country will apply to these islands also, and not Regulation I of 1912 which is still running there?

Shri Raj Bahadur : It was only as late as June last that this matter was brought to our notice, and we at once referred it to the Madras Government who hold charge of these islands. It is in their power to look into the matter.

Shri V. P. Nayar: I find that the islands in question are administered by the Collector of Malabar under what is called the Laccadive and Minicoy Islands Regulation of 1912. I also find that under this law, the Bengal Provisions Regulation of 1818, the Madras State Provisions Regulation of 1819, and the Scheduled District Act of 1874 are the only laws for the time being in force in these particular islands. May I know what steps Government propose to take in order that the laws of these islands may be made up to date as is obtaining in India at present?

Shri Raj Bahadur : It is exactly for that purpose that we have drawn the attention of the Madras Government to this matter. There is only one clause namely clause 8 of the regulation, to which objection has been taken. It is in the powers of the Madras Government to repeal that regula ion.
