Central Information Service

1354. Shri R. Barua: Will the Minister of Information and Broadcasting be pleased to state:

(a) when the examination for appointments in Central Information Service Grade IV was held last;

(b) whether the results of the examination were announced and consequent appointment to the relevant posts made; and

(c) if not, the reasons for this delay?

The Minister of Information and Broadcasting (Shrimati Indira Gandhi): (a) A written test for recruitment to 171 initial constitution vacancies in Grade IV of the Central Information Service was held by the Union Public Service Commission on the 2nd and 3rd June, 1964.

(b) The results of the test has not yet been announced.

(c) Certain persons who were appointed to posts now included in Grade IV of the Service between 1st July, 1954 and 16th February, 1959, have recently been declared, in consultation with the Commission, as

'departmental candidates' for the purpose of appointment to the Service at its initial constitution. The question of declaring certain other persons who were appointed to such posts between 15th February, 1959 and 1st March, 1960 is separately under consideration, in consultation with the Commission. After the Selection Committee has screened these candidates, the number of vacancies to be filled on the basis of the written test held in June, 1964 will undergo a change. Hence the delay in the announcement of the result of the test and consequent appointments.
