(d) the extent to which it will boost our exports?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI DALBIR SINGH): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) Exim Bank has currently referred to RBI for its approval two new lending programmes : (i) Foreign Currency Preshipment Credit (FCPC) and (ii) Forfeiting.

(c) The FCPC programme represents a source of foreign currency pre-shipment finance to enable Indian Exporters to import essential inputs required for export production. The foreign currency funds raised under FCPC are expected to be selfliquidating in nature in as much as FCPC borrowings could be repaid out of the foreign exchange earnings from exports.

Forfeiting is a programme through which export receivables scheduled to be receied over a medium or long term period can be realised in the short term. The mechanism aims at getting the export receivables discounted through the network of international forfeiting agencies.

(d) It is expected that the above new lending programmes, if approved by RBI, will lead to increased exports, though it would be too early to quantify such an increase.
