(b) and (d) Registration investigation detection and prevention of crimes including crimes against women. is the responsibility of the State Governments / Union Territory Administrations. However the Government of India have initiated a number of measures to check such crimes. The dowry prohibition Act (1961) was amended in 1984 and 1986 to make the law more stringent. The Indian Penal Code the Code of Criminal Procedure (1973) and the Indian Evidence Act (1872) have been amended to deal effectively not only with dowry deaths cases but also with cases of cruelty of married women. Instructions/guidelines have also been issued from time to time to the State Governments/union Territory administrations to effectively enforce legislation relating to crimes against women. Besides the media is being used to project women in positive terms. Awareness-generation camps are being organized. Women's development programmes in various states including the Development of Women and Children in Rural Areas (DWACRA) programme and in female literacy programmes are some of the other step being taken to improve the status of women.
