Utilisation of Organic Manure

4403. SHRI HARISH RAWAT:
SHRI P.R. KUMARAMANGA-
LAM:

Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

(a) whether organic manure is being fully utilised for agriculture and biogas plants;

(b) whether organic manure have been shown to be as effective and more advantageous than chemical fertiliser; and

(c) whether any controlled trials have been made in India and abroad?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND COOPERATION IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI YOGENDRA MAK-WANA): (a) Organic manures are used for crop production to the extent possible. Under National Project on Biogas Development, animal waste is utilised for generation of biogas and manure.

(b) The organic manure when applied alone was not found to be so effective and advantageous as the chemical fertilisers. This is because of their low nutrient content and slow release. However, when organic manure is applied in conjunction with chemical fertiliser the response was found to be more than when either of these constituents is used alone.

(c) Experiments have been conducted on the integrated use of organic manures and fertilisers on various vegetable and cereal crops in India under the ICAR Coordinated Projects and in Agricultural Universities.
