UNSTARRED QUESTION NO:2824
ANSWERED ON:17.08.2004
SETTING UP OF GAS AND COAL BASED PLANTS
Kumar Shri Shailendra,Yadav Shri Parasnath

Will the Minister of CHEMICALS AND FERTILIZERS be pleased to state:

- (a) the number of Gas and Coal based plants in the country at present, and the areas where the urea produced by these plants is sold, State-wise;
- (b) whether the Government is contemplating to set up such plants in the country;
- (c) if so, the details thereof, State-wise; and
- (d) the likely benefits to the farmers in setting up of such plants specially in Uttar Pradesh?

Answer

MINISTER OF CHEMICALS & FERTILIZERS AND MINISTER OF STEEL (SHRI RAM VILAS PASWAN)

(a) At present there are 14 urea plants in the country which are gas based and no coal based urea plants in the country.

At present 50% production of each urea manufacturing unit is under distribution control of Government of India and the manufactures are free to sell the remaining 50% production in open market anywhere in the country. The states where the urea produced by these plants is sold is annexed.

(b) & (c) No, Sir. At present there is no proposal to set-up new fertilizers plants by the Union Government.

(d) The average consumption per year of urea in Uttar Pradesh has been 45-46 lakh MT and the installed and operative capacity in Uttar Pradesh is already 57.387 lakh MT which is already in excess of the requirement of state.
