Answer

MINISTER OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT
(SMT. SMRITI ZUBIN IRANI)

(a) to (d): The Ministry of Human Resource Development has consulted NITI Aayog in order to consider the issue of allowing foreign universities to set up their campuses in the country. NITI Aayog has opined that the road map for the same would involve a four-fold effort viz., (i) raising educational standards and international benchmarking (ii) attracting investment in the higher education sector (iii) leveraging India's soft power and (iv) strengthening regulation.

The University Grants Commission had proposed fresh regulations for promotion and maintenance of standards of academic collaboration between Indian and Foreign Educational Institutions with a view to streamlining its regulations in the matter.

During the consultation process of the New Education Policy, States were requested to give their views on various themes, one of which is "Internationalisation of Education". All suggestions received from States and during other consultation processes have been sent to the Committee for Evolution of New Education Policy.
