

Title : Need for compulsory telecast of Republic Day & Independence Day programmes on all the television channels.

SHRI N.S.V. CHITTHAN (DINDIGUL): There are two days of National pride and importance. One is Independence Day and another is Republic Day. On every Independence Day the Prime Minister addresses the Nation from Red Fort. On the Republic Day procession is conducted depicting the Nation's development, culture etc. The President of India takes the salute. Both these programmes should be telecast in all the channels compulsorily so that the younger generation will be educated about our great past.
