Title: Need to give all the IAS aspirants who have appeared between 2011 and 2015 three more free options in UPSC examination.

SHRI VARAPRASAD RAO VELAGAPALLI (TIRUPATI): I am a Member of Parliament from Tirupati constituency of Andhra Pradesh. Before becoming an MP, I was an IAS officer. A few IAS aspirants have represented to me, particularly with rural background that in 2011 CSAT, the Aptitude Test has been introduced, and it was continued up to 2015. Earlier the selection was 40 per cent from the rural background, it has come down to 10 per cent. During that five years time, those IAS aspirants from rural background who faced CSAT exam have badly affected. As they lost five chances, I urge upon the Government and the UPSC to give all these IAS aspirants who have appeared between 2011 and 2015 three more free options so that justice is done to the IAS aspirants with rural background.
