A fne! neeting was keld on the i:th August to consider the redraft of the Bill at which Diwai Bel:adu: M. Ramachardee Rac also was present.
2. Man of the opinions elicited or s: calatiou cit the Buil inrolre amendments of the existing larm and this. in our opinion, is cutside the scope of the Bill mhich has been referred to us. The Bill is pure! a consoliciating Eill and con.e of those tho have submitted opinions hare clearly treated it a : ecch, and it would not be adrisable, or mithin our competence, fo: us to consider amendments of the existing la $\pi$ in connection therewith. The papers which $\pi t$ have considered horerer indicate that there is a considerable volume of opinion in farour of amending the existing law and we insite the attertion of the Gorernment to this fact.
3. Suggestions have been made for the inclusion of the undermentioned enactments in this Bill, but for the reasons hereunder giren re are not of opinion that these should be consolidated mith the present Bill.

The Hividu Dispasition of Propierly Act, 1916.-As onls a part of the Act relates to succeasion, the consolidation of this portion alone rould not simplify the Statute Book, as section 5 of the Act cannot suitably be included in the amending Bill, and this section requires that the prorisions of the Act relating to succession should continue to be enacted therein.

The Sprecial Marriages (Amendment) Aci, 1923. -The principal Act is of special application and it is adrisable that eren the rules of snccession arplicable to persons who marry under that Act should be enacted in the special Act which deals rith the status of such persons.

The Trills Act, 1838, and the Inheritance Act, 1839.-These relate only to mills and intestacies occurring before the lst January, 1866, and in all probability rill be spent at an early date.

The Legal Representative Suits Act, 1855.-This cannot wholly be included in the consolidating Bill: the provisions of the Act are substantially reproduced in the Bill, but we hare decided $c x$ majori cautela not to repeal the provisions of this Act.

We agree rith the Statute Lam Revision Committee that it would be difficult to incorporate the prorisions of the Indian Fatal Accidemts Act, 1855, in the consolidated Bill.

The Oudh Estates Act, 1869, and the Malabar Tills Act, 1898.-These are enactments of local interest which rould not properly find a place in a general consolidating enactmerit. This applies also to Bombar Regulation VIII of 1827.
4. The following notes on clauses explain the amendments which we have made in the Bill.

Clause 2.-lt has been fointed out that the omission of the definition of "procince" given in the Irdian Succession Act, 1865 (and the consequent application of the definition giren in the General Clauses Act, 189i), does alter the existing law. We hare, therefore, inserted in ners clause ( $g$ ) the original definition.

Clause 3 (1).-This has been brought into jine with the prorisions of section 332 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, which operate from the date stated.
im 210 LD

New Part III.-Original clauses 54 and 55 have been taken out of original Part IV and, with original clause 4 , formed into a new Part dealing with the effect of marriage on rights of succession.

Part IV, clauses 2.3 to 28. -We have taken the clauses relating to consinguinity from original Part III (intestate succession) and formed them into a separate Part, new Part IV, as in Act X of 1865 . The operation of these clauses is not limited to cases of intestate succession.

Clause 3.3.-We are of opinion that the provisions relating to the rights of a widower are more appropriately inserted here.

Clause 38.-Illustration (c) has been transferred to clause 40 , as illustration (d) as the illustration croperly relates to that clause.

Clause 99.-We have amended this clause to express the meaning more clearly.
Cluse 111.-We have omitted Illustration (b) as it might give the impression that a chili in the womb is excluded which is not the existing law.

Parts VI and VIII.-The amendments made are purely drafting amendments. Original clause 215 has been inserted in Part VIII as clause 211 and original clause 293 as clause 216 as they deal with the question of representative title. In clause $2 l \pm(1)(a)$ and in the heading to the Part re have added the words "on succession" as a majority of $u+$ are of opinion that the addition is necessary to make it clear that no change has been made in the existing law.

Clause 217. - We have amended the clause to make it clear that it refers to intestate as well as testamentary succession.

Part IX, Chapler I.-We have re-arranged the provisions in the following order: (1) administration in case of intestacy, (2) probate, (3) letters of administration.

Clause 245.-The wording of section 32 of Act V of 1881 has been followed as this covers both cases.

Clause 267 (3).-The word "truly" has been added to remove any doubt a; to what is cleariy the intention of the provision.

Cluuse 278 (1) (c). -The wording has been assimilated to that in clause $2 \overline{1} 1(2)(a)$.
Clucse 291. - in the case of probate a bond can only be deunanded from the special cla zes to whon Act V of 1881 ayplies.

Clause 302 (of the original Bill).- We have omitted this clause as the Chapter enunciates general principles of law which suo vigore apply to Hindus and the other specified communities.

CTauses 3.2 and 359.-The rords added have been taken from sections 103 and 131 of Act V of 1831.

Cluuse 323.-The words omitted are merely explanatory and are not to be found in section $10 \pm$ of Act V of 1881.

Clause 332. - An administrator is not mentioned in section 292 of Act $\mathbf{X}$ of 1895 but for the reasons given in the note on this clause attached to the original Bill we are of opinion that an administrator should also be mentioned here.

Schedule III.-The necessary omission in section 70 has been made in vier of the first proviso contained in section 3 of Act XXI of 1870. We have excluded from this Schedule sect on 72 which deals with the revocation of privileged wills, as section 65 which permits of privileged wills being made is not included. The inclusion then of section 59 of the Indian Succession Act, li6j (now clause $\overline{i 2}$ of the Bill! in section 2 of the Hindu Wills Act, 1870, was meaningless as section $\mathbf{j 2}$ of the former Act was not also included.
5. The putbication ordered by the Council has been mide as foilons:-

> In: the ierreucuiar.

f. We think that the Bill has not been so altered as te require re-pablication. We do not uggest that the tinal pasing of th: Bill thould be delared till an anindizg Bill ginerally ove:hauiing th: lav of succesision has been introduced and taken thoongh the Legislature. This would $\mathrm{r} \in \mathrm{y}$ considerably delay the $j^{\text {a }} \cdots$ :age of the present Bill, which as a purely consolidating measure :hould prore of great utility, and re recommend that it be passed as now amended.
