of this country was dishonoured and all kinds of humiliations were inflicted upon the diplomatic personnel of this country. But I have never heard one syllable about what the Government of India or the Ministry of External Affairs did in so far as international conventions about diplomatic immunities and privileges and the honour due to one country from another country were concerned.

I am, therefore, deeply disturbed about this aspect of our foreign policy. Do we always propose to play the role of the good boy in politics, who behaves very well while the whole world disregards all those adjurations on our part and treats us shabily? I do not say that let us behave badly. On the contrary, let us abide by all these international conventions in order to bring about a decent international life. But at the same time, let us pull our weight properly and let us assert the self-respect of this country.
