Shri Sweel wants an answer to that simple question whether the Minister is going there.

Shri Nanda: The Government has to discharge its responsibility; whether through the person of the Minister or otherwise, it has to discharge it.

The Deputy Minister in the Ministry of Defence (Shri D. R. Chavan): So far it has not been traced.

An hon. Member: The Deputy Minister is here.

Mr. Speaker: Has he got any information?

RAILWAY BUDGET—GENERAL
DISCUSSION—contd.

Shri Alvares (Panjim): The hon. Minister for Railways has succeeded in presenting a Budget that has met with the approval of a large section of the community, but I do not think that on the performance and the prospects of the railways in future this optimism or complacency is justified. If they examine the issues more carefully from the point of view of performance or from the point of view of its financial implications or from the point of view of the vast labour complex of twelve lakhs of railway employees, I do not see any justification for the complacency that is shown there. Government is investing large sums of money in public enterprises and this money should not be locked unfruitfully and public sector enterprises should come at least to the standard of profit that the private sector enterprises are showing today. Public sector enterprises are exempt from various forms of taxation of the corporate sector. This dividend shown by the railways does not therefore justify the complacency in regard to the discharging of its financial responsibility to the general revenues. That is why, when the net income of the Railways has dropped by about Rs. 7 crores since last year, this complacency
