SHRI INDRAJIT GUPTA: Sir, the polling in Bihar Assembly elections was completed on the 31st May. 31st May was the last date of the polling. I want to know whether it is not a fact that in the constituencies where declaration of results, the anthe nouncement of results, was held up, the last announcement, the final announcement had not come at all for 11 or 12 days after the polling? Can the Minister tell us whether he does not consider this to be an absolutely unprecedented thing which has never happened before that even after the polling date, the results are held up for 11 or 12 days? He has submitted a list—I wish I could have read it but I have no time to do that-which is a horrible thing. 81 constituencies are listed here. That means in 25 per cent of the total seats in Bihar Assembly the reasons given for not announcing the results are because of capturing of booths, looting of ballot papers snatching away of ballot boxes by using guns, beating the persons, etc. I would like to know from him in how many of the 81 constituencies repolling had to be ordered—in some booths if delay of two or three days takes place I can understand—as a result of which there is a delay in announcing the results? But in those cases no repoil was ordered. Why were the results held up for so many days? What is the reason for it? Is it that the Congress Party was not sure of getting majority and, as such, was trying to manipulate?

SHRI P. SHIV SHANKER: The Members of the Opposition know the reasons much better but I can 58y this much that in twenty constituencies repoll had to be ordered by the Election Commission. So far as the rest are concerned what was done was that having regard to Section 58 (2) of Representation of Peoples' Act the Election Commission directed the Officers Returning that wherever these irregularities have taken place if the winning candidate is getting much more votes as compared to the places where irregularities have taken place and the second candidate is much lower then you could declare the result; otherwise you seek the instructions. Because the Returning Officers wrote back in such cases for further action to be taken and the Election Commission had to direct what further steps to be taken, therefore, with reference to the rest there was delay in pronouncing the results. Otherwise there was nothing wrong.
