SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: In the statement the names of nearly ten factories have been given to whom expansion licences or letters of intent have been given. May I know from the hon. Minister whether the Government is aware that the EID Parry & Co. is increasing its capacity from 2000 to 3000 tonnes a day?

SHRI ANNASAHEB P. SHINDE: If letters of intent or licences have been issued in the past for the expansion of any factory, legally it is not within our powers to prohibit that company from expanding its capacity.

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: The name of that factory is not found in this list. That is why I wanted to know whether it is a fact that the EID Parry Co., Nellikuppam is expanding their capacity from 2000 tonnes a day to 3000 tonnes. My question has not been answered.

SHRI ANNASAHEB P SHINDE: There are two points involved. I have actually made the point. Since the hon. Member wants some clarification, factories can expand within the licences or letters of intent issued to them because expansion upto Rs. I crore, according to the decision of the Industrial Development Ministry, is permitted for industrial undertakings within particular limits. If any company is expanding within that limit, it is legally permissible.

The list of companies to whom expansion licences or letters of intent have been given has been laid on the Table of the Sabha.

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: My second supplementary is....

MR. SPEAKER: Is it still the second one?

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: Yes, Sir. The first one was only by way of clarification. My second question is: most of the sugar factories in Tamil Nadu for this season of 1970-71 have not paid even 50% of the price for sugar cane supplied to them till this day. Even for last year they have not paid fully to the sugar cane suppliers. If such things are going to happen, it will ruin the industry, the growers as also the Government. In view of all these things may I know from the Minister whether those factories who have not paid the dues to the cane-growers—now they are getting all facilities from the Government—will be prevented at least from expanding further, in order to save the growers as well as the industry?

SHRI ANNASAHEB P. SHINDE: The actual position is that out of the total dues of Rs. 22,56,00,000 for the sugar cane purchased by the sugar factories in Tamil Nadu, Rs. 17,77,00,000 have been paid and the arrears are Rs. 4,79,00,000 and now as the House is aware, as far as the arrears of cane price are concerned, we have been impressing upon the State Government that necessary steps including coercive measures should be taken to recover the arrears of sugar cane price so that the growers do not suffer.

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN rose.

MR. SPEAKER: Now you have had enough of the back bencher's privilege.

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: There are a lot of sugar cane growers who have not been paid. That is why the question, Sir.

MR. SPEAKER: There is only half a minute more for the Question Hour to end. You can take it if you are not still satisfied. You are the last gentleman to ask question during this session.

SIIRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: In Tamil Nadu, when the sugar-cane growers approached the State Government for non-payment of the sugar cane price, the factories' plea was that the Central Government are not giving adequate credit. When we approach the Central Government they say, this is a subject which should be considered by the State Government. This state of affairs is continuing.

MR. SPEAKER: I am going to declare that the Question Hour is over.

SHRI LAKSHMINARAYANAN: I would like to ask the hon. Minister whether some policy will be devised so that both the Governments, Central and States, put together, may take proper action against the factories, who have not paid the gugar-cane dues promptly.

SHRI ANNASAHEB P. SHINDE: There are no two opinions between the Tamilnadu Government and ourselves. I am again taking it up with the Tamilnadu Government so that necessary action is taken by the Government to recover the arrears of sugar-cane prices.

MR. SPEAKER: The Question Hour is over.
